SEVERAL BILLS PASS THE HOUSE

The Oklahoma Bill is Again Considered, But no Action Taken—Mr. Blair Resumes His Remarks on His Educational Bill—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Mr. Butterworth, from the committee on patents, presented a favorable report upon the bill providing for the appointment of representatives to the industrial conference at Madrid, April 1 next, but Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, objected to its consideration.

Mr. Rowell, of Illinois, chairman of the elections committee, gave notice that he would call up the Atkinson-Pendleton case on Wednesday next.

Mr. Adams, of Illinois, from the judiciary committee, called up and the house passed the bill to divide the judicial district of North Dakota into four districts, courts to be held at Bismarck, Grand Forks, Fargo and Devil's Lake; also a similar bill, providing for the division of South Dakota into three divisions, courts to be held at Sioux Falls, Pierre and Deadwood.

The house also passed bills creating the eastern division of the northern Federal judicial district of Georgia; providing for terms and places of holding United States courts in the district of Minnesota; regulating the sittings of United States courts in the district of South Carolina, and senate bill authorizing the president to confer brevet ranks upon officers for gallant services in Indian campaigns since 1867.

At 1:35 p.m. the house went into committee of the whole on the bill for the appointment of an assistant secretary of war. After some discussion the committee rose and favorably reported the bill to the house, and then the house resumed consideration of the Oklahoma bill.

Mr. Hooker, of Mississippi, questioned the authority of the United States to interfere with the internal affairs of these Indians. The bill simply proposed a grand robbery of Indian lands.

Mr. Baker, of New York, favored the bill, and Mr. Turner, of New York, opposed it.

Mr. Washington, of Tennessee, declared it would be a crime against civilization to leave the 90,000 people in the territory without any government at all.

After further discussion, and without action on the bill, the committee rose.

On motion of Mr. Wilkinson, of Louisiana, Saturday afternoon, March 22, was set apart for the delivery of eulogies upon the late Representative Edward J. Gay, of Louisiana, and on motion of Mr. Cummings, of New York, Thursday evening, April 3, was fixed for the delivery of eulogies upon the late Representative S. S. Cox, of New York.

The house then, at 5:35 o'clock, adjourned.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The senate passed the house bill for the sale of the military reservation of Ft. Bliss, Tex., and the selection of a new site.

The resolution of Mr. Chandler, calling on the attorney general for information as to the assassination of Deputy United States Marshal Saunders, of Florida, was taken up and Senator Pasco addressed the senate in explanation of the circumstances of the case. The resolution went over again without action.

The senate passed bills appropriating $100,000 each for public buildings at Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Lansing, Mich.

Mrs. Plumb having made inquiry of Mr. Morrill as to the status of the bill concerning the lease of the seal islands of Alaska, Mr. Morrill said that he had been instructed by the committee on finance not to press the matter, as there was not sufficient time to give it a full consideration. Mr. Plumb thought it unfortunate that congress should not act in this matter before the 21st of February, when the secretary of the treasury would make a new lease for twenty years.

Mr. Hale gave notice that he should call up the bill for the purpose of the naval establishment when a vote is taken on the educational bill.

The senate passed senate bill establishing a customs collection district consisting of North and South Dakota.

Mr. Blair then resumed his remarks in favor of the educational bill. He said that the bill had been killed in the past by packed committees, individual members of which had been threatened by anathemas from their church. He said that the country was not to be given over to those who would teach a civil allegiance elsewhere than within our own borders, whose president lived on the banks of the Tiber.

Mr. Blair again abused the press which he said regarded a dog fight as more important than his speech on a great educational measure.

Mr. Blair suspended his remarks for a secret session, and at 5:30 p.m. the senate adjourned.

Senate's Secret Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—In the secret session of the senate the question of the secrecy of the session was debated at some length. Senator Dolph called attention to the fact that certain newspapers published most elaborate reports of the proceedings of the senate in secret session, and that the press associations covered very fully each evening all the business transacted by the senate behind closed doors during the afternoon. He was in favor of a sweeping investigation.

Attention was called to the fact, in spite of the special injunction of secrecy placed on the proceedings of the previous day, the newspapers contained the usual full and accurate reports. As the senators would not place the blame on each other, the possibility that reporters obtained access to the galleries during the secret session, was discussed, as was also the possibility that employees of the senate leaked. It was proposed, among other things, that the entire senate wing of the capitol be cleared of all but senators and employees during the secret session.

After some further discussion the senate disposed of some routine business and confirmed several nominations.

Ready for the Fair Struggle.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The division of the time of the house among the friends of the various cities struggling for the world's fair has been arranged. One hour and a half on Thursday and half an hour on Friday will be allowed to each city. The friends and opponents of "any fair at all" will be allotted one hour of each day, which the chairman, Mr. Candler, reserves to himself. As a result of a drawing had last night among the friends of the four cities New York will be heard first, St. Louis next, Chicago third and Washington last.

Women Suffragists.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The women suffrage convention yesterday at first listened to the reading of state reports. "The attitude of the association toward political parties" was then discussed. Miss Alice Pickler, of South Dakota, insisted that women should have a hand in the management of all public institutions. Short speeches were made by Mrs. Fray, of Ohio; Rev. Olympia Brown, of Wisconsin; Miss Blake and Mrs. Root, of Michigan.

Presidential Approvals.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The president has approved the joint resolution recognizing the republic of Brazil; the act for the relief of the sufferers by the wrecks of the Trenton, Vandalia and Nipscic at Samoa; an act to constitute Albany, N.Y., a port of immediate transportation; an act appropriating $40,000 for Marion home for disabled volunteer soldiers.

AN ENJOYABLE EVENT.

The Ohio Society's Annual Banquet at Delmonico's, in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The Ohio society's annual banquet at Delmonico's last night was a highly enjoyable occasion. About 150 of Ohio's sons participated. Among the guests were Gen. Sherman, C. M. Depew, ex-Governor Wise, of Virginia; Gen. Thomas Ewing, Congregationalist Grosvenor, Senator-elect Brice, S. B. Elkins, Gen. H. L. Burnett, Col. William L. Strong, J. D. Archibald, H. H. Rogers, S. T. C. Dodd, Isaac Taylor, C. C. Shayne, E. B. Harper and E. B. Thomas.

Letters of regret were received from Senator Sherman, Governor Campbell, Governor Brackett, of Massachusetts; J. L. Cooper, of Chicago; Whitelaw Reid and others.

Gen. Wager Swayne presided and Gen. Ewing was the first speaker. Gen. Ewing spoke of the glorious event which the society was founded to commemorate, the establishment of a government in the northwest by the Ohio company, formed at Boston in 1786.

Ex-Governor Wise made a speech that aroused great enthusiasm for its eloquence, patriotism and brilliance of historical reasoning.

Chauncey M. Depew followed ex-Governor Wise in a humorous and entertaining speech.

Pictures of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan were then thrown on screen from stereopticons amid much cheering.

Gen. Sherman, Senator-elect Brice and ex-Governor Ashley, of Ohio, also spoke.

BASE BALL RUMOR.

An Effort Being Made to Reduce the Number of League Clubs to Eight.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 20.—President Day, of the New York League ball club, said yesterday: "I am here after the Indianapolis team, if it is possible to get it. We want the whole team outfit. It is well recognized that an eighth club circuit would enable the League to make a more successful and determined fight against the Brotherhood. Of course, if Indianapolis goes out it would force out one other club. By the reduction it would more evenly balance the teams, and all would be good cities and have good teams. If we could get the Indianapolis players we would stand on an equal footing with the Brotherhood."

When asked if he was prepared to use considerable persuasion upon President Brush to convict him, Mr. Day said: "I don't care to say as to that."

The senate passed bills appropriating $100,000 each for public buildings at Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Lansing, Mich.

Mrs. Plumb having made inquiry of Mr. Morrill as to the status of the bill concerning the lease of the seal islands of Alaska, Mr. Morrill said that he had been instructed by the committee on finance not to press the matter, as there was not sufficient time to give it a full consideration.

Mr. Plumb thought it unfortunate that congress should not act in this matter before the 21st of February, when the secretary of the treasury would make a new lease for twenty years.

Mr. Hale gave notice that he should call up the bill for the purpose of the naval establishment when a vote is taken on the educational bill.

The senate passed senate bill establishing a customs collection district consisting of North and South Dakota.

Mr. Blair then resumed his remarks in favor of the educational bill. He said that the bill had been killed in the past by packed committees, individual members of which had been threatened by anathemas from their church. He said that the country was not to be given over to those who would teach a civil allegiance elsewhere than within our own borders, whose president lived on the banks of the Tiber.

Mr. Blair again abused the press which he said regarded a dog fight as more important than his speech on a great educational measure.

Mr. Blair suspended his remarks for a secret session, and at 5:30 p.m. the senate adjourned.

Not in Favor of the Canal.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—The commission of French engineers who have been examining the Panama canal are here on their way home. They decline to say whether their report will be favorable as to the practicability of completing the canal or not, but from their conversation it is inferred that it will be unfavorable.

The Eight Hour Law.

It Will Not Pass the British Parliament.

THE MINERS GET A BACK SET.

No One to Introduce Their Measure, and Nothing But Defeat Stares Them in the Face—Death of an Eminent Home Ruler—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The difficulty experienced by the miners delegation in securing from leading politicians of whatsoever party a pledge of aid in the passage of an eight hour law is no doubt extremely discouraging to the committee whose confident demeanor at the outset betokened conviction on their part that they had only to ask for what they wanted and receive it. It is now pretty well settled that the government will not support an eight hour measure at present, and it is equally apparent that the opposition are so evenly divided on the question that not even political capital sufficient to win a single parliamentary seat can be made out of the proposal.

Even Mr. Gladstone, ready as he is to espouse the cause of the oppressed, has felt impelled to advise the representatives of the miners to consider the question of legalizing an eight-hour work day from other points of view than their own, before engaging in a contest for something that perhaps it will be found many workingmen do not want, and from other political leaders the delegation have received still less encouragement.

The persistence of the delegates, however, is commendable as evincing a unanimity of purpose on the part of the vast body of men they represent which may serve them in good stead on some future occasion, if it does them no substantial good now.

Bismarck Will Not Resign.

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—The statement current in Berlin yesterday and attributed to semi-official sources that Prince Bismarck would shortly resign the chancellorship in favor of Herr Von Boetticher defies confirmation, and is therefore disappearing with rapidity into the mists of improbability. The rumor doubtless had its origin in the verified reports that the chancellor will speedily rid himself of the exactions of his connection with the Prussian ministry. As to his absolute retirement from ministerial duties nobody believes that he will relinquish the direction of imperial affairs until actually compelled to do so by advanced years and physical infirmities more serious than any with which he has yet been afflicted.

Death of an Eminent Home Ruler.

BOSTON, Feb. 20.—Mr. Joseph Gillis Biggar, the well known Home Ruler and member of the house of commons for the west division of County Cavan, died yesterday at Clapham, a suburb of London. He was 62 years old. Mr. Biggar's death was caused by heart disease. He was present in the house of commons Tuesday evening, and was one of the tellers in the division on Mr. Parnell's amendment to the address in reply to the queen's speech, asking for the repeal of the coercion act.

Sixteen Persons Drowned.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The passenger steamer Coral Queen, from Gothenberg, has been sunk off the river Tees in a collision with the Rotterdam steamer Brinio. It is reported that sixteen persons on the Coral Queen were drowned.

Thanking the Emperor.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—An enormous meeting of German Socialists was held here last night, which passed resolutions thanking the Emperor of Germany for having issued his labor decrets.

Socialists Wounded by Soldiers.

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—At Muhlhausen, in Saxony, there was a fight at a Socialist election meeting, which went so far that the soldiers were called to restore order. Thirty persons were wounded.

Dangerous Colliery Explosion.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—A serious colliery explosion took place last night near Decize. Thirty-four bodies have thus far been recovered. The total number of victims is not known

The present Legislature has cost the State $60,000 and has not enacted a single law of general importance. Gentlemen, hadn't you better quit and go home?

EVERYBODY is now hustling to adopt standard time. Remember that you can lie abed twenty-two minutes longer in the morning if you adopt it.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

What about going to bed twenty-two minutes earlier?

WHEN the boomers of Eastern Kentucky have an off day they buy up a town, divide it up into twenty-five foot lots, and sell them out to the highest bidder. It isn't a good idea to do too much of this sort of things, as they may soon want some one to help them "let go."—Bourbon News.

THE Courier-Journal begs leave to call the attention of Senator Ingalls and his Republican conferees to the fact that there has just occurred another election riot in which the ballot boxes were stolen, and guns, pistols, knives, clubs and other weapons were used with such murderous effect that several people were killed and a large number wounded. The Courier-Journal would also call the attention of Senator Ingalls to the fact that the scene of this outrage is not in the South, but at Harper, in his own State of Kansas.—Courier-Journal.

THE Globe, published by colored Republicans, at Cleveland, O., says: "The Southern colored journals are using considerable of their valuable space in publishing the speech of Senator Ingalls. If they knew Ingalls as well as the Northern negro element do they would stop it. Ingalls is no friend to the black man; he is a negro hater and has proven himself as such in times gone by. So give Ingalls a rest! He is fixing himself for 1892."

The same Journal quotes a prominent colored Republican as saying that if Grover Cleveland received the nomination for President in 1892 he would support, vote and work for his election, and he says he knows others who will do likewise.

GREENWOOD LIBRARY FUND.

Eight Years Since it Was Turned Over to the City, and What Has Been Done?

William Greenwood, actuated by a spirit of benevolence, after providing in his will for the support of his wife during her life-time, devised all his estate in trust to the city of Maysville, to be managed and controlled by the City Council for the purpose of founding a public library for all time to come for the benefit of all. Much as our City Council has been criticised and its acts scrutinized in the prudential and financial management of our municipal affairs, it is not more culpable in these than it has been in its management and control of the Greenwood Library Fund. Mrs. Bettie Greenwood, the wife of the testator, died a few days before her husband, so that on his death all the Greenwood estate devolved to the city of Maysville. The executors of the will, James Cahill and Josiah Wilson, qualified as such, sold the real estate and disposed of the personal property, paid the debts against the decedent's estate, made their settlement with the County Court, and paid over to the City Council of Maysville nearly sixteen hundred dollars in cash and good notes. The City Council received the money and notes from the executors, thereby accepting the trust, and obliging themselves to the execution of the same. But the management of this fund on the part of our City Council has not been that which a careful man displays in the conduct of his own affairs. Eight years have elapsed since the City Council made its final settlement with the executors. During all this time, not one step has been taken to found the library, a duty the City Council owed to themselves, to the city of Maysville, and to the generous donor and benefactor, to have performed long ago. Under the will it was their imperative duty. It says:

"After my wife's death, I direct that all my estate and its accumulations, after the support of my wife thereout as above directed, shall be applied to the founding and establishment of a public library in the city of Maysville, and for that purpose I devise said property to the said city for the purpose aforesaid, after the death of my wife to be managed and controlled by the City Council of said city in such way as may be deemed most advisable for the purpose of establishing or assisting to establish for all time to come a public library in said city for the general benefit of all."

In this, the third section of the will, in the which the property is devised to the city of Maysville. First, there are sufficient words to create a trust—"I devise said property to the city of Maysville, to be held and enjoyed by said city for the purpose aforesaid (founding a public library) after the death of my wife, to be managed and controlled by the City Council of said city; second, this estate was devised for a definite and special object—'I devise all my estate and its accumulations, after the support of my wife thereout as above directed, shall be applied to the founding and establishment of a public library in the city of Maysville; third, there is a permanent and general beneficiary for whose use and benefit this library was to be founded—it was to be established for all time to come, a public library in said city for the general benefit of all.' Have we public library? Do we enjoy the moral and intellectual instruction of the library the money was donated to found for the general benefit of all? Surely we do not, and the reason we do not is because our City Council has neglected to perform its duty. Our courts of equity will not let a trust go unexecuted, and permit the beneficiary to be deprived of the enjoyment of his rights, and our statute expressly provides that "No charity shall be defeated for the want of a trustee or other person in whom the title may be vested; but courts of equity may uphold the same by appointing trustees, or by taking control of the fund or property and directing its management and settle who is the beneficiary thereof." While the beneficiary of the Greenwood Library Fund has a legal remedy, this legal compulsion should not be courted by the City Council; but a sense of high and honorable duty should constrain the City Council to take immediate steps to execute this trust as directed by Mr. Greenwood in his will. When the City Council accepted the management and control of this fund it was morally and legally bound to apply the money to the well-defined purpose plainly and explicitly expressed in the will, and not apply it to the payment of municipal debts, increasing the burden of interest annually upon the tax-payer, and withholding the enjoyment of property from those it was intended for.

The bad management of the trust fund, the tardy disposition evinced to apply it to the proper purpose, and to use it for other purposes than that for which it was bestowed, will have the effect of discouraging others from making similar beneficent gifts. Let the City Council awaken to a sense of its duty and apply this money to the founding of a public library. Who can estimate the grand results that might be accomplished by such an institution in this city? There is now being exhibited in our community, and especially in our schools, a desire for greater literary achievements. Let us foster this spirit, and let us do all that is possible to encourage and help in this direction. Do you say the sum in your hands is inadequate? Gentlemen, we appreciate your large views in this matter, but when shall the sum be adequate? Let the present generation get the good of what you have, and then perhaps some other public benefactor may be encouraged to open his coffers and put into your hands such sum as will enable you to realize your lofty ideals and to put in reach of this community such books as shall greatly benefit them. Thus, you will turn their minds into such channels as shall redound to their good and the glory of those who have established this much-needed institution. Let us have the public library now!

SARDIS.
Mr. Adrian Salt is visiting friends at Washington.

Miss Mary Tom Wheatley has returned from a visit to friends near Blue Lick Springs.

Judge Little and Dr. Fisher, of Carlisle, were here last week.

Mr. Lory Love, S. P. Manley's hustling clerk, is visiting his parents at Cynthiana.

Mr. Jas. Grigsby bought of Mr. Cal Arthur, a fine driving horse for $200 cash.

He'd Scoop a Little.

About the time that Daniel Drew began his Wall street career he was up in the country one time to visit some friends, and two farmers called upon him to decide a case. One had sold the other five bushels of wheat, and proposed to measure it in a half bushel and sweep the top of the measure with a stick. The other objected, and Uncle Daniel was asked to decide.

"Well, legally speaking, a bushel is only a bushel," he answered.

"And can the measure be swept off?"

"I think it can."

"What with?"

"Well, if I was selling wheat I should probably use half the head of a flour barrel."

"Which edge of it?"

"Gentlemen, that is a point I cannot now decide on," sighed the old man. "If I was selling to a widow or a preacher I am certain that I should sweep the measure with the straight edge, but if I was selling to a man who pastures his cows in the road and his pigs in his neighbor's corn, I'm afraid I should use the circular side, and scoop a little to boot."—Wall Street News.

Dolls' Eyes.
According to an English journal two minor branches of the doll industry form distinct trades—the making of shoes and eyes. The shoes are made from the waste material of children's ornamental shoes and boots; but this branch is a smaller one than that of eye making, as many dolls are sent out with merely painted boots, while all or nearly all have proper eyes. Dolls' eyes are of two sorts, known technically as common and natural. The common are simply colored hollow glass spheres of white enamel, black and blue being the only colors used. The natural eyes are of similar composition, but have the pupil and iris correctly represented. Considerable quantities are exported, especially to French dollmakers. The black eyes are used for dolls exported to South America, and blue eyes for those used at home, children naturally preferring their dolls to have eyes of a similar hue to those most common among themselves.

A Privilege of Old Age.

A wise old man, the late Dr. James Walker, president of Harvard University, said that the great privilege of old age was the "getting rid of responsibilities." These hard working veterans will not let one get rid of them until he drops in his harness, and so gets rid of them and his life together. How often has many a tired old man envied the supernumerary family cat, stretched upon the rug before the fire, letting the genial warmth gradually diffuse itself through all her internal arrangements! No more watching for mice in dark, damp cellars, no more watching the savage gray rat at the mouth of his den, no more scurrying up trees and lamp posts to avoid the neighbor's cur, who wishes to make her acquaintance. It is very grand to "die in harness," but it is very pleasant to have the tight straps unbuckled and the heavy collar lifted from the neck and shoulders.—Dr. Holmes in The Atlantic.

Prairie Chickens.
Not less than 1,000,000 of prairie chickens are marketed in Chicago every year, of which number Illinois furnishes nearly one-half. The business is decreasing every year, and free shooting will soon lead to its total extinction as far as that state is concerned. Real sportsmen, as well as the public, would be benefited by placing the season a month later. Better work, results purchased with more skill and effort, would raise the quality of the sport, and the game would be finer because of the colder weather and longer feeding season.—Philadelphia Record.

The freeholders of Roanoke, Va., have voted an additional subscription of $100,000 to the capital stock of the Roanoke and Southern Railway, and $20,000 to a hospital building.

A MOTHER'S CRIME.

She Deserts Her Family But Returns and Kills Her Baby.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 20.—The citizens of Trimble county, Ky., are excited by the cold-blooded murder by a mother of her child. Mrs. William Richmond several months ago deserted her husband and young babe, and fled with another man. Although the husband made every effort to find his wayward wife it was without avail, until this week she suddenly returned, stealthily entered the house in the absence of her husband, and administered poison to the child, who died after suffering terrible agony. The husband is almost wild with grief. He offers $1,000 reward, all he is worth, for the capture of the murderer.

Billy Emerson's Team.

I joined a group in the Sturtevant house, in the center of which was Billy Emerson, the minstrel. He was relating to his listeners some of his experiences on the road. "In my early days," he was saying, "I was a member of a little band of minstrels whose modesty was in perfect keeping with its size. We only played the smaller towns, and every afternoon, rain or shine, we gave our parade. As I was the star I insisted that, in order to give tone to the company, the manager and I should head the procession in a carriage. Well, I had my way, and there was always a scramble on the manager's part, as soon as we reached a stand, to get the best looking carriage and team that the town afforded.

"We were to play in a little town out west one night, and had secured from the only livery establishment in the place the pair of horses which were also used in the town hearse. Well, there was a funeral that day, but the stable keeper, who was an Irishman, promised faithfully to be on hand at the tavern by 2 o'clock. The members of the company, surrounded by a crowd of gaping rustics, were standing out on the plank walk waiting for the start, and I was on the porch waiting impatiently for 'me coach.' At 1:30 o'clock I looked down the road in the direction of the stable and discovered an open carriage with two horses on a dead run, driven by our Irish friend, who yelled out to me as he reined in his panting steeds before door: 'Av yez thought I wasn't coomin', sure yez don't know Pat Shea, for, be havins, I'd been here on toime av I'd a had to brought the corpse wid mel'—New York Star.

Over Enough.

A gentleman said to a large crowd of people that was pouring out of a public hall: "What's going on inside?" "A humorous lecture," was the reply. "Is it over already, it's only 9 o'clock?" "No," shouted the crowd, "it's only about half over."—Epoch.

PRICES CURRENT.

Review of the Stock, Money and Cattle Markets for Feb. 19.

Money on call was easy at 3½ and 4½ per cent. Currency sixes 116 bid; fours coupon 122½ bid; four-and-a-halfs coupon 102½ bid.

The stock market was only moderately active this morning. At the opening the market was from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. higher for the general list, while Jersey Central advanced 1 per cent. In the half hour to 10:30 there was a further advance of $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 per cent. Jersey Central led the advance, and at the highest point was up 2 per cent. Sugar Trusts were strong and advanced 1½ per cent. by 10:30. Toward the end of the hour the market weakened and prices reacted to below the opening figures, except in the case of Jersey Central, which was well held. After 11 o'clock there was a decided pressure to sell Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Rock Island, and under their lead a further decline took place. At 12 o'clock Rock Island was 2 per cent. below its best price, and Burlington and Quincy 1½. The decline in the others were small. At this writing the market is dull and heavy.

WILLIAM REED, a carpenter who lived in Maysville a few years ago, died at Bellaire, O., Jan. 29th, after a lingering illness from grip and typhoid pneumonia.

THE rain-fall yesterday was the heaviest for months. The water came down in great big drops, accompanied by heavy peals of thunder—regular April showers.

MISS MOLLIE BEST and Mr. W. T. Tweed, of Ripley, were married Tuesday evening. The bride is a daughter of Captain E. M. Best, and has many friends in this country.

ONLY a few days more remain to buy goods and secure tickets on the elegant diamonds Hopper & Murphy give away March 1st, 1890. This drawing will positively take place on date named. dtf

BALLINGER, the jeweler, has postponed the raffle of that $400 diamond until March 8th. In the meantime he will give a ticket with every dollar paid on account and on every dollar's worth of goods bought.

FARMERS—The Frank Owens Hardware Company keeps constantly on hand a big stock of fencing wire—barbed, plain annealed and plain galvanized, all of the best make. Call at this old and popular establishment when you want wire.

THE Cincinnati Degree Staff, consisting of forty-five members, will visit Lafayette Encampment, I. O. O. F., of Ripley, on Saturday, March 1st, 1890, and confer the Patriarchal, Golden Rule and Royal Purple Degrees on a number of candidates.

FRANKLIN KENNEY, a lawyer and real estate agent of Paris, was found dead in his room Tuesday morning. It is supposed that his death was caused from heart disease. Monday he was in his usual good health and attending to his work.

MASONIC NOTICE.—Called meeting of Maysville Chapter No. 9 to-night at 8 o'clock to confer M. P and M. E. degrees and to-morrow (Friday) night at 8 o'clock to confer R. A. degree. Companions are requested to attend promptly.

JAS. K. LLOYD, Secretary.

THE Flemingsburg Gazette says: "Flemingsburg don't want any boom built after the manner of Middiesborough and Pineville articie. We want a steady, honest growth and do not want to have the surrounding country dotted with graves of suckers who were decoyed here and dumped their substance."

MR. J. W. CASON, freight clerk in the K. C. and O. office, was married yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock to Miss Lucy W. Pettit, of Covington, at the home of the bride's father. The Commonwealth says: "The presents received by the bride were numerous and elegant. The happy couple will make their home in Maysville."

MESSRS. ERNIE WHITE and Lee Haucke, who have been seeing the world for the past two years, arrived home last evening. They left Lima, Peru, about a month ago, and came by way of Equador, and Panama to Aspinwall, thence by vessel to New Orleans. Mr. White had a touch of "Panama fever" while crossing the gulf, and is looking a little thin, but their general health has been good.

The ladies of the Central Presbyterian Church will give a social and supper Friday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock, at the residence of C. Shultz Wood. Proceeds for the benefit of Sunday school. Admission, including supper, 25 cents; children twelve and under 15 cents. Ices and cakes 15 cents extra. All who attend will be welcomed.

MISS KATIE SWIFT, formerly of this city, was married Tuesday at Lexington to Daniel Henry. The Leader says: "There was quite a goodly attendance of spectators, and the bride looked very handsome in a stylish walking dress, with hat to match. The company repaired to the home of Mrs. Lloyd after the ceremony and partook of a delightful luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Henry will reside at the home of the groom, corner Limestone and Third."

PROFESSOR A. FROST and some of his pupils of the Fifth ward and Chester will give their second piano recital to-night at the home of Mrs. H. Seddon, corner Lexington and Front streets, Fifth ward. An excellent programme has been arranged. Between the other numbers, there will be recitations, vocal solos, and two duets for violin and piano. Those invited are requested to be on hand promptly at 7:30 o'clock. A delightful evening is anticipated.

"Little Nugget." Little Nugget, the favorite musical comedy, will be given at the opera house next Monday evening. Since last seen here the comedy has been rewritten. New songs, dances, specialties, music, new characters, two charming soubrettes, and the great lady quartette have been added. With the able support of the comedians, Herbert and Joe Cawthorn, "Little Nugget" will no doubt draw a big crowd.

Locating the Bonds. In the case of Chas. B. Pearce et al. against Albert Netter, at Cincinnati, to recover possession of some bonds of the Water Works Company of Greenville, Miss., the Enquirer says: "The Fourth National Bank was made a garnishee. That institution has filed an answer that reveals where some of the bonds are which, it was alleged, could not be found. The bank answers that it holds twelve of the bonds of the par value of $1,000 each, pledged to them by Netter as collateral security for a loan of $7,600."

Overlooked the Law. A writer to the Maysville BULLETIN advocating the Australian system and commenting favorably on its workings in Louisville, says of the Legislature:

"How it could do this, however, and not violate that clause in our Constitution which says, 'In all elections by the people the votes shall be personally and publicly given, viva voce,' is a matter for the courts to decide."

No, it is a matter for the Legislature to decide. The BULLETIN's correspondent overlooked section VI of article 6, which authorizes the Legislature to provide for what terms and in what manner officers for towns and cities shall be elected.

Covington Commonwealth.

Here's the Latest Swindle. In order that our merchants and business men may be placed on their guard, the following late swindling game is given from an exchange: "Two well-dressed men will enter a store, one having in his hand an addressed envelope containing a sheet of paper. Throwing down some silver dollars he will ask for a paper bill in exchange so he can send it through the mail. If the bill is given it is apparently placed in the envelope and sealed up. Suddenly he discovers that the amount is a little short, and saying he will return in a few minutes, he takes up the silver, hands over the envelope and leaves. Later, when the envelope is opened, it is found to contain an old beer stamp, which has been inserted instead of the bill."

Railway News.

Danville will likely vote $40,000 to build a connection with the L. & N. The Louisville and Nashville railroad earnings have increased nearly $2,000,000 within the past year.

There is talk of a line of railroad from Chillicothe, O., to Maysville, Ky. The Chillicothe Leader had a long article on the subject last week.—Ripley Bee.

The Nickle-plate management claims to get a larger mileage out of locomotives than any other road in the country. Last year 110 passenger and freight locomotives, whether in service or in the shop, made 45,000 miles or 122 miles a day by each engine owned by the company. On the Lake Shore road the average miles run per locomotive was 32,150, or 88 miles a day.

R. H. Myrick has been appointed Superintendent of the Chesapeake and Ohio dining-car service. He is an experienced man, and has been in the dining-car service with the Pullman Company since dining-cars were first introduced on through runs. He had charge of the Pan-American train, and has been running special excursion trains for some time. On the 1st of next month the dining-car service on the C. & O. will be put in charge of General Passenger Agent Fuller, and he says he is determined to have it the very best in the United States.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS.

Items of Interest Gleaned From the Doings of the State Solons at Frankfort.

Over 800 bills have so far been introduced in the House.

Middiesborough was granted a city charter and also a charter to build water works.

A resolution extending the session indefinitely was adopted yesterday. Senator Poyntz voted against it.

Auditor Norman filed a report showing the lawyer fees paid out by the State in past four years. The total amount was $34,400.

Among the bills now pending is one fixing the compensation of the Assessors of this Commonwealth by paying for such services twenty cents per list for 2,000 lists, and under; twenty cents per list for the next 2,000; fifteen cents for excess to 4,000 lists, and five cents per list above 4,000 lists.

Sixty-five new bills found their way in the House Tuesday, mostly local and unimportant. "There were bills to incorporate towns, banks and turnpike companies; to allow counties to vote on prohibition, and on propositions to take stock in railroad and turnpike companies, and for the relief of private persons and individuals."

Mr. Thorne, of Henry County, is after the warehouse men and commission merchants engaged in selling tobacco at public auction. His bill limits their compensation to $2 for each hogshead sold. In the event the sale of any hogshead is rejected by the owner or his agent and a re-sale is made by the same warehouse or in the same warehouse, no greater sum shall be charged than $1 per hogshead for any such re-sale. In every case where the warehouseman or commission merchant charges to the owner a commission for collecting and paying over to him the money for tobacco, he shall account to the owner as much for the cask or hogshead as will offset any commission charged. In the sale or re-sale of any hogshead there shall be no deduction from the net weight by reason of the sample, but in every instance the owner shall be entitled to full weight, as if no sample had been taken. No additional charge shall be made for weighing so as to increase the price of selling to a greater amount than herein specified.

It shall be unlawful for any warehouseman or commission merchant to hypocalate or pledge any tobacco shipped to or stored with him or issue any warehouse receipts on any tobacco in his possession, without the written consent of the owner, and in the event he does so without said written consent, such pledge or warehouse receipt shall vest no title to the goods in the holder of said pledge or receipt, that is to say, the owner of the property can not be divested of title to the property without his written consent. The proprietor or commission merchant shall, for every violation of the act, be liable to the party aggrieved thereby in the sum of $50 for each violation thereof, to be recovered by warrant before any tribunal in Kentucky having jurisdiction.

About the Size of It. The total assessed valuation of Mason County is about $10,000,000. No sane man who knows the county would question the statement that $20,000,000 is nearer the truth.—Fleming Gazette.

Important Changes. The C. and O. people will make important changes in the schedule of their trains in a few days, probably next Sunday. No official announcement has yet been made as to what the contemplated change will be.

A Pleasing Sense of health and strength renewed and of ease and comfort follows the use of Syrup of Figs, as it acts in harmony with nature to effectually cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50c. and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

Here and There.

Miss Hattie Wood, of Washington is the guest of the family of Rev. J. M. Evans, of West Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Fraze, of Maysville, will spend the next few days in this city with their daughter, Miss Jennie Fraze.—Lexington Leader.

River Items.

Captain Wm. Riggs has returned to Aberdeen after an absence in the West of two years.

Due down: Andes, at 2 p. m. and St. Lawrence at midnight. Due up: Chancellor and Rainbow at Midnight.

The Future City and tow went into New Orleans a few days ago with 227,206 bushels of corn, 3,647 barrels and 117 half barrels of flour, 1,500 barrels of meal, 4,450 sacks of oats, 600 sacks of flour, 280 sacks of malt, 200 sacks of bran, 150 sacks of rice, 600 cases and 400 tierces of lard, 331 miscellaneous packages. Such trips as this are calculated to make railroad croakers think that it is the railroad that is dying a slow death instead of the steamboat being a corpse, says Will S. Hays, in the Courier-Journal.

Cronin Jury Bribery.

Only One Man Proven to Be Guilty.

KAVENAUGH TO BE ACQUITTED.

O'Donnell Held by the Judge, and His Case Will Be Decided by the Jury. Some Sensational Testimony Elicited by the State's Witnesses.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—The proceedings in the jury bribing case were resumed yesterday. Bailiff Hanks was recalled and testified that he never heard the names of Jeremiah O'Donnell or Thomas Kavanaugh mentioned in connection with the case.

Ex-Bailiff Salomon was then called. He did not remember just the time of the beginning of the jury bribing business, but Hanks and he had several talks about it. Hanks proposed the scheme and said if they could get some men on the jury that would hang out for an acquittal, they could make $1,000 or $2,000. When witness was at work summoning jurors Hanks gave him a list of names and told him if he got any of them he would receive $1,000. By some change in the arrangements he was not, after that time, sent to summon jurors. He inquired of Hanks, who was then furnishing the money, and was informed that John Graham would. Witness wanted to see the money or part of it, and Hanks and he drove to Graham's house. Hanks saw him alone and told him Graham didn't have the money just then.

This was just before the exposure came. Salomon then detailed his operations on Tschappot, his story not differing materially from the latter's statement. Witness identified the "crooked list" produced by State's Attorney Longenecker as the second one Hanks had given him. Witness said he knew O'Donnell, and said he took him through the jail. While going through the jail O'Donnell shook hands with John W. Beggs, and expressed his sorrow at seeing him there. Witness said he did not know how Kanen was summoned. Nothing important was brought out on the cross-examination.

Joseph Dundas, a stenographer, who took down Kavanaugh's statement in Judge Longenecker's office was then called to show by Kavanaugh's own statement his connection with the plot. He submitted Kavanaugh's statement as taken by the witness in Judge Longenecker's office, in which Kavanaugh said he had made inquiries about Hoagland, a possible juror, and that his reason for doing so was that he did not want a man who was opposed to the Irish people to get on the jury. He (Kavanaugh) had no interest in the Cronin suspects but believed the Irish nation was on trial. Kavanaugh reported to Mr. Forrest, counsel for Coughlin and Burke, that Hoagland was "all right," and inquired about another man named Clark who was summoned as a juror and reported him "all right" to Forrest.

Eddie Hoagland, the last and principal witness for the state was then called. He testified that O'Donnell told him he should get on the jury and get the boys to bring in a verdict of acquittal, and there was a lot of money in it for him, a thousand dollars. The state then announced their case closed.

Motions were made by the defendants' attorneys that the court instruct the jury to bring a verdict of acquittal on ground that there was no evidence against the prisoners. The judge allowed the motion on behalf of Kavanaugh, but overruled in behalf of O'Donnell. Kavanaugh will be formally acquitted on the opening of the court.

THE NEW CRONIN SUSPECT.

Confident Detectives Start With Their Prisoner for Chicago.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 20.—J. B. Kelly, the Cronin "suspect," left yesterday morning for Chicago in the custody of Detective Thomas, via the Chicago and Alton road. Kelly was very reticent, and refused to talk with reporters. He complained bitterly at being refused access to copies of the daily papers.

Detective Thomas was asked: "Is it your belief that Kelly has any connection with the tragedy?" He refused to reply, but said: "It is a divided question among us that are working on the case. I shall always have the firm conviction in my own mind that he is the man that drove the buggy on the eventful night. I have a strong chain of circumstantial evidence against him, but I candidly admit that I cannot secure a conviction without the identification. It will all be settled to-morrow."

Not Recognized in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—J. B. Kelly, the book canvasser, arrested in St. Louis charged with complicity in the Cronin tragedy, arrived in Chicago last night, and was at once brought by his captors to police headquarters.

Mrs. Conklin and Frank Scanlan, who saw the person with whom Cronin drove away the night of May 4, were promptly given a look at Kelly. Both failed to identify the St. Louis man as the driver of the celebrated white horse. Scanlan declared himself positive that Kelly was not the man.

The question of whether Kelly might not be the mysterious "Simonds," the man supposed to have purchased furniture for the Carlson cottage, was then taken up.

Mrs. Conklin and young Scanlan say Kelly's general resemblance to the driver of the white horse is not very wide of the mark, except the eyes, which were different altogether.

Kelly will be brought before others to day to see if any one can identify him.

In a circular bearing the heading, "Treasurer's Office, 154 Twenty-second street," Fitzpatrick appeals to the friends of the convicted Cronin murderers for funds to pay the expenses of a new trial.

A Three Month's Voyage.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 20.—The steamer City of Kingston, supposed to have been lost during her trip from New York, arrived Tuesday after an uneventful trip of ninety-two days.

THE PRESIDENT IN PITTSBURG.

He Will Attend the Dedication of the Carnegie Free Library.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 20.—President Harrison arrived in the city at 11 o'clock last night, accompanied by Congressmen Bayne and Dalzell, and Andrew Carnegie, of Pittsburgh; Professor Langley, of the Smithsonian institute, and Enoch Pratt, of Baltimore. A committee from the Duquesne club met the presidential party at Braddock, where the train stopped for half an hour to allow the party to inspect Carnegie's Edgar Thomson steel works.

Upon the arrival at the Baltimore and Ohio depot in this city, the presidential party was escorted to the Duquesne club. The president retired immediately on his arrival. President Harrison will hold a public reception at the court house today at 3 o'clock, and then proceed to the Carnegie free library in Allegheny City, for the dedication exercises.

No Prospects of Conviction.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 20.—The taking of testimony in the case of the seventeen citizens of Sharon, charged with intimidating Postmaster Duckworth, was concluded yesterday. The result will probably be a technical case against the accused, but in view of the absence of personal violence toward, or direct interference with the postmaster, it is thought that the case may be dismissed at the April term of the Federal court.

Congressman Kelly's Successor.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 20.—The vote for a successor to the late Congressman Judge William D. Kelly in the Fourth congressional district was as follows: Reburn, Republican, 24,830; Ayers, Democrat, 16,446; Tumbleston, Prohibition, 238.

An attachment under the fraudulent debtors act has been issued at Philadelphia against A. E. F. Kurtz, a paper dealer of that city, upon an affidavit of George N. Friend, president of the Friend & Fox Paper company, of Cincinnati.

Weather Bulletin.

Threatening weather and rain; winds shifting to northwesterly; colder, followed by a cold wave.

The stern central last night in western Colorado has developed remarkably, and is now central in Indiana. A decided cold wave extends from Minnesota to northern Texas, and will follow the storm eastward. Rain and snow has occurred in the lake regions, and rain in the Ohio and upper Mississippi valley.

—Hope for Dick Hawes Now.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 20.—John Wylie, who is accused by Dick Hawes of being the murderer of Mrs. Hawes and Irene Hawes, was arraigned yesterday, and after hearing his statement and that of Hawes, Justice Poe discharged him for lack of evidence. He was cheered by the people as he left the court room. No one believes Hawes' story.

The Same Old Story Retold.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Feb. 20.—Thomas Lee assaulted and fatally injured his wife yesterday afternoon at Bladensburg and then committed suicide. The couple had been living apart for the past two months. Lee went to where his wife was employed yesterday afternoon and besought her to return to him. She refused, whereupon Lee picked up a pot of boiling water and scalded her badly. Then he gashed her throat with a knife inflicting what will probably prove fatal injuries. Immediately afterwards Lee cut his own throat from ear to ear.

Going to the Lepers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Miss Amy C. Fowler, Sister Rose Gertrude, left this city Tuesday for San Francisco, where she will take the steamer to Honolulu. From that port she goes to the leper island of Molokai to devote her life to the services of the unfortunate people there. R. Y. Dowling, by her request, has sent a letter to the press thanking the American people for their contribution to her work. The contributions to the lepers amount approximately in cash to $2,000, of which $34.10 was in cash.

Disappeared—Short $40,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—A special to The Times from Natchez, Miss., says that R. E. H.
